Why This Price Range

Every comparable that sold nearby was built between 1957 and 1989. Not one is newer than 1986. This home was built in 2020. A buyer at this price point is choosing between a fifty year old roof, fifty year old plumbing, and fifty year old wiring, or your house.

2312 Bandy Dr is 1,442 sq ft, within thirteen square feet of your home, and it sold for $370,000. It was built in 1964. That is the floor, not the ceiling.

2015 Ronald Cir is under contract right now at $385,000 at only 1,308 sq ft, built 1976, a quarter mile away. Your home is bigger and fifty six years newer.

The top tier is capped below $399,998 because that exact price was tried in March 2025 and did not find a buyer. Values are up 3.39% since then, and the valuation rose $4,300 in just the last month. The market caught up. What matters this time is starting at a number the market will actually meet.

2015 Ronald Cir is the strongest single comparable. It is under contract at $385,000, only 1,308 sq ft, built 1976, just a quarter mile away. Your home is 147 square feet larger and fifty six years newer.

The contrast matters: the smaller, older home priced at $385,000 found a buyer. The larger home at $380,000 has sat for forty one days. Price is what moves a house.

Nearby off-market RPR valuations: 131 Euclid Ave: $387,230 (1,484 sq ft, 1985, $261/sq ft)
612 E Wheeler Rd: $394,020 (1,553 sq ft, 1973, $254/sq ft)

Market Conditions

Values in the Seffner area are up 3.39% year over year and rose again this past month. The market is balanced right now, not a frenzy. A home priced correctly moves in about eleven days. A home priced on hope sits.

Appraisal Risk

Several older homes here closed near $217 per square foot. If a buyer needs financing and the appraiser leans on those instead of recognizing the 2020 build, the appraisal could come in under contract price. Manageable, and a cash buyer or strong down payment removes it, but you should hear it now rather than in week six.

Your Advantages

- ✓ Purchased in 2020 for $269,995 and lived in it since, so the gain should be exempt from federal capital gains tax under the primary residence exclusion. Confirm with your accountant.
- ✓ Roughly $150,000 in equity at today's value, and that money moves with you.
- ✓ No HOA. Flood zone X. Two car garage. Screened porches front and rear. These are boxes every buyer checks, and you check all of them.

What Changed Since Last Time

The home was on the market before and came off in March of last year. Two things are different now: values are up 3.39% since then, and the valuation rose $4,300 in just the last month. The market caught up.

What matters this time is starting at a number the market will actually meet and having a plan for the first ten days instead of hoping.
