HOW TO READ THIS

Three sale prices across the page, three commission structures down it. The commission depends on how the buyer is found, so you are looking at a range of outcomes rather than one number. Your FHA loan payoff is included, estimated at $117,995, which includes the $10,000 deferred second on your statement. Order a written payoff letter from U.S. Bank and I will update these figures.

Estimate prepared for discussion purposes only. Actual closing costs are calculated by the title company and will differ. Assumes a conventional Florida residential closing with no seller concessions, no repair credits, no HOA or CDD estoppel, and no outstanding liens, judgments, or code violations. Documentary stamp tax calculated at $0.70 per $100 of sale price. Owner's title insurance calculated at the Florida promulgated rate. Property tax proration based on the 2025 Pinellas County assessment of $5,308 and the assumed closing date shown above; Florida property taxes are paid in arrears, so the seller is responsible from January 1 through the closing date. Not tax or legal advice. Consult your tax preparer regarding capital gains and depreciation recapture on a property used as a rental. Payoff is estimated from your U.S. Bank statement dated August 4, 2026: $108,893.57 principal at 4.75%, amortized forward to the assumed closing date, plus the $10,000 recoverable corporate advance shown on that statement, which the servicer describes as including a deferred second mortgage. Only a written payoff letter from your lender is binding. Your escrow balance of $1,521.43 is refunded separately by the servicer after payoff and is not shown above.
